

Save the date for the 9th European Urban Resilience Forum

Registration is now open for the 9th European Urban Resilience Forum (EURESFO), taking place in Athens, Greece on 14 and 15 September 2022.

This flagship ICLEI Europe event invites local and regional governments seeking to shape a climate-resilient future to take part in the discussion and to meet up this September in Athens (Venue: Athens Technopolis).

EURESFO is a European initiative driven by ICLEI Local Governments for Sustainability and the European Environment Agency (EEA), and this year will be co-organised by the City of Athens. Over the past 9 years, it has served as a unique exchange platform for city representatives, experts and stakeholders from local and regional institutions to discuss strategies, initiatives and actions for adapting to climate change, managing disasters and building urban resilience.

The event will keep its informative, open and interactive character, maintaining its 'PowerPoint free' format. Participants are encouraged to share experiences and points of view on a variety of topics that will explore challenges in urban resilience planning and implementation. Some topics that will be highlighted this year are: coastal resilience, tackling heat waves and wildfires, disaster risk reduction for safer and healthier communities, regional pathways towards resilience transformation, nature-based solutions for equitable development and many more!

For more information and as well as to register to the event, click here

For the latest updates and programme announcements, follow EURESFO on Twitter @Urb_Resilience

For media inquiries, please contact:

Jennifer Cote, EURESFO communications lead

ICLEI – Local Governments for Sustainability European Secretariat

Email: jennifer.cote@iclei.org